

PRESS RELEASE

Final conference and last partner's meeting of project CO-EFFICIENT was held in Portorož, Slovenia from 21st to 22nd of May, 2015.

University of Maribor organized, in cooperation with the "International Conference on Transport Science – ICTS 2015" and Open ENLoCC – European Network of Logistics Competence Centres, final conference entitled "Improving Energy Efficiency – Improving Competitiveness".

Final conference, which was held on 21st of May, brought together numerous experts, stakeholders, academia, representatives of transport and logistics sector alongside experts from the field of energy efficiency as well as representatives from small and medium enterprises from across Europe. Topics that were discussed included efficient urban freight, energy efficiency of SMEs, energy management in practice alongside accomplishments and solutions offered by project CO-EFFICIENT.

During the conference, attendants heard latest news from MED programme with emphasis on themes related to energy and programme INTERREG MED 2014-2020 to be launched at the end of June. Focus was then shifted to smart, efficient, clean urban freight which was followed with discussion of energy management in production processes and energy management systems. The conference continued with presentations of activities and solutions implemented within project CO-EFFICIENT. Partners' of the project presented e-Services, analytical tool, and Living Labs created within the project.

On the last partner's meeting which was held on 22nd of May, project partners gathered to review activities undertaken so far and to discuss all remaining necessary steps for successful Project completion.

